

Cascadia Search Dogs

Seth Stone has been a member of Search and Rescue since 2002 and has served in leadership roles throughout the organization. In 2006, Seth and his K9 partner Sable began their training and have recertified 5 times in wilderness airscout. The team deployed at the Oso mudslide for 5 days, have trained for 12+ years and have participated in countless missions. Due to her extensive career and age, Sable has retired, and Seth is training his second partner Sierra. Seth and Sierra are certified in airscout and will be looking into secondary discipline certifications next.

Seth also participates in important ways with his local SAR organization with the UAV team and Project Care Track. Along with being a devoted handler, Seth is an experienced K9 Operational Leader and Planner. He has a wife, who is also involved with Cascadia Search Dogs, and a young son.
